AFTER 02/10/2022 $45/MEMBER

Association Office Education Center, North Mankato

Course Description: In this 3.75-hour class, agents will learn intermediate skills in handling some commercial transactions. It's been said there are two unavoidable things in life-death and taxes. In real estate, taxes are a fact of life. From foreign investors to capital gains, there are methods of deferring income taxes that are explained. In commercial real estate, there are additional concerns about capital gains (profit) and how it is taxed. As agents prepare Net Proceed Sheets for their sellers, a basic understanding of this line item is crucial to include.

Learning Objectives:

- The process of 1031-tax deferred exchanges
- The importance of an Intermediary
- Capital Gains tax calculations
- Investors (foreign and domestic) impact on sales
